

Together with GSK Oncology

Together with GSK Oncology understands that a cancer diagnosis can be overwhelming for patients and loved ones. Treatment considerations and costs can add undue stress, especially if you're unsure what coverage options are available or how to access them.

Together with GSK Oncology is a patient support program to help you and your doctor access a variety of reimbursement support and financial assistance offerings that you may be eligible for if you are prescribed a GSK oncology medicine.

Together with GSK Oncology can help you with:

Financial Assistance*

Together with GSK Oncology can identify programs that may be available to help you pay for your medicine:

- Co-pay assistance for eligible patients with commercial or private prescription insurance. Eligible patients may be able to receive their GSK medicine for as little as $0, up to program maximums.
- The Patient Assistance Program offered by the GSK PAP Foundation offers GSK medicines for free for eligible patients, including patients with no prescription drug coverage for their GSK medicine or Medicare patients who qualify for the program.
- Information about other organizations or independent foundations that may be able to help with GSK medicine costs.

Reimbursement Support*

- Information about insurance coverage and costs for your GSK medicine. (The information provided by Together with GSK Oncology is not a guarantee of coverage.)
- Help your doctor understand the special steps your insurance company may require before coverage for your GSK medicine can be approved.
